

Over 300 attend reading banquet at Bonner

Bonner Elementary School hosted its second I Love to Read Banquet on Feb. 11.

Over 300 parents and students were in attendance for this Title I Parent Literacy Event.

Teachers and staff members volunteered their time to work in the kitchen and serve tables at the banquet. Poetry was the focus for the evening, as eight students read poems they had written and entered into a contest.

Bonner's featured poets were Mackenzie Camlin (third grade), Hayden Dawson (third grade), Bryanna Jackson (second grade), Taylor Harris (fourth grade), Katlynn Powers (fourth grade), Jacquez Prioleau (Kindergarten), Breanna Stalls (fourth grade), Hayle Swartz (third grade), and Saleyah Wynn (first grade).

Under the direction of Mrs. Desiree House, the chorus sang three selections. Mrs. Kimberly Prioleau, mother of Jacquez, shared a strategy for reading books and writing poetry at home with her child.

Mrs. Laura Long, Parent Volunteer Coordinator, shared the success of volunteers in the school this year and offered more ways to get involved.

Mr. Mike Toler, PTO Co-President, read the book, The Crayon Box that Talked, and gave a short motivational talk about the benefits of working together as parents, teachers and community members. Bonner wishes to extend thanks to Macedonia Christian Church and Pointe North Community Church for the use of their tables for this special event. The banquet was a night to celebrate reading but even more than that it was a time to enjoy the company of family, friends and community members and be reminded that we truly need each other and the individual gifts we each have to offer to ensure the success of students. They are more than students ... they are our children, our future!
